1. PRESIDENT'S REPORT:

President Paul Bourbeau opened the meeting at 12:08. Introductions were made around the table and with those on the phone.

Acceptance of meeting minutes. Motion to accept minutes from the February meeting; Glenn moved to accept; seconded by Bart. Minutes approved

2. FINANCIAL

Financial report was distributed and accepted.

Last year a resolution was passed to take a look at regions and determine similarities and differences. There are no guidelines for how regions operate. Should there be some? Or is it okay that they operate differently. A committee is looking at this. Chaired by Peter Kuttner. Have until a year from now for their report at the 2020 convention. CI received a survey to fill out about the NE Region. There is a resolution this year that has an impact on regions

3. Annual Meeting

Lorin: Annual Meeting and Awards Celebration is on Saturday, Oct. 5. Things are set. Will have optional tours in the afternoon, but they are included with registration. Board meeting at 11:30, to allow anyone who wants to participate in the tours at 2:00. Keynote is Charles Lamb at 5, reception 6, awards 7. There is an EP informal gathering in downtown Amherst afterwards.

CFE available June 1; submissions due Aug 1. Jurying in Portland, OR, on Aug. 12. Using CFE from last year. Want's to add a question on firm size (number of employees). Some discussion on this. CT is doing the same thing. Jury needs info on the size of firms, they may factor that in. Mike L. noted this is happening across the country. WMA is reluctant to establish categories, and we should be consistent year to year. If we want to do that, it should be discussion happening now for the future. Graphics and info to chapters by June 1. Jeannette: they have categories. It provides context for jurors, but they aren't required to follow the categories when assigning awards.

4. Grassroots Followup

MA chapter had a handout at Grassroots for legislative reps, in addition to the issues that AIA gave us. Lorin has copies, if you would like to see. It is an interesting document put together well. They felt that a lot of the federal representatives picked it up and seemed interested. Jesse: maybe design a template that we can all build from and there is some consistency from each state.

AIA asked on a followup survey, how components are following up with legislators. The evaluation just got compiled so should be available around time of AIA Conference.

Discussion on scheduling meetings with legislators via Soapbox, which AIA did for components this year. Most components liked it, but it is missing the opportunity to set up a relationship. Alan feels it is a bit counter-productive; AIA should be facilitating us. Gina noted that what AIA State Government provided this year was very good.

SGN will be in Providence in July. July 17-19.

5. STRATEGIC COUNCIL:

- Council is maturing a little, getting more organized. Moderator Bruce Turner is doing a really good job. Board is meeting right now, so there was a flurry of activity getting reports together. Judith sent to AIANE Council members yesterday.
- Been looking at strategic planning; Danielle is on that committee. Judy participated in some of their activities. Council does this every three years.

- Been working on improving communication. Each board committee has SC on it, acts as liaison between council and the board.
- In the report Judy highlighted the public outreach committee: look at everything they are doing. The game apps they started developing three years ago are still being addressed. Good to see it is being developed.
- SC has check-in points to report more robustly about what they are doing. Inside Bruce's report you'll see a summary of all the activities and workgroups.
- Housing resolution. Judy sent AIA Board's talking points to us.
- Regional survey. Carolyn filled out survey.
- At large directors: about a week left to submit application. Would be great if we could get someone from New England. Close on June 3. The At Large position is for two years, but same as SC in regards to time, meetings, etc. Attend Grassroots, Conference, meeting in Denver, Governance week (all face to face); need to participate in workgroups; if on board committee they have face to face meetings. A lot of work done over the phone. (sometimes 8-16 hours in a week; generally at least 4-8 hours a week of time)
- Council votes on the applicants. Elect three to the Council from the applications; if the steering committee deems there is more expertise needed, they can advance two more people.
- Eric will be CACE rep on SC next year, as well.
- If you have someone to nominate, write letter of interest. Judy says it's a really good experience and that the SC is working well and getting very productive. Meet people around the company and talk about big issues common to all. Great opportunity.
- Judy asked about Diantha and Martha. People who've been on New England Board.
- Want to get on Board Committees next year. There is some preliminary work to do this. Judy will talk to Tom about this.
- Judy on Best Practices Committee, Communications sub committee, Innovations Business Model Group. Will meet frequently in Las Vegas.
- Climate action resolution. Tom sent a couple of thoughts: maybe should define what decarbonization means. Should create measurable objectives. Judy will forward on to Betsy. BSA board discussed it, had a few questions, but will support it. AIACT will as well. This resolution is coming from the floor, also the housing resolution.
- CANDIDATES:
Discussion of candidates.
- Bylaws. 1. Titling of allied members. 2. Longterm stability and flexibility, allowing some reserves to be used for things other than emergencies. Bylaws now are very restrictive in use of the reserves. Treasurer and head of finance are in favor of this. CACE reviewed both of these, and Strategic Advisory Council; both in favor of each. Has AIA Board come out on these? If they do, she'll send anything they send her. It is still a conservative approach on it.
- Resolution coming from international regions: formation of sections. Proposing that international areas with members but no chapter to belong to, could be able to be a section for that region. CACE took no position. Primarily because there is a group studying sections right now and there may be unintended consequences. Encourage the region study group to incorporate this into their study. Can have a section that is part of a chapter, but not one that is part of a region.
- Payette (receiving firm of the year) is having party at AIA Conference. At THE SPACE. Friday night, 7-10pm. Offering transportation between Renaissance and the space.
- Gina thanked Carolyn and Lori for setting up the Grassroots dinner.
- Feedback from members: let Judy and Danielle and Tom know of issues. Would be nice if communications could become more engaging. SC working for transparency and ways to communicate more directly with members. Better feedback loop. If you are SC and on a board committee, you report.

6. RAD REPORT:

See RAD report following notes.

Gail is Knowledge Workgroup of NAC.

App: Paul asked if AIA is willing to increase resources for that. Discussion is happening, Gail said. Monica asked if there was an outside developer that could do this.

Gina reported on ARE study series on line called Amber Videos by Michael Vernon. You can buy seats for $142.50 each, per month, minimum of four seats, and can switch people out. Monica asked what the pass rate is for this series. If you take the series, you end up taking all six exams. Bonnie asked if he might make adjustments for smaller chapters; maybe some go in together. Gina will send this information.

7. YARD REPORT:

See YARD report following notes.

Katelyn: AIA National Graphics working with them to create templates for their toolkits. Then they will host their content on AIA Knowledge Net.

EP Friendly Firms program: A lot of firms are making some changes after seeing last year's awards and the survey. That's the most exciting thing about the program; that firms are making adjustments. Let components know so that they can promote it as well.

Helen: definition of small firm. Seemed to be very large firms. Katelyn indicated they will look at this.

Actual definition of EP:

Diverse group of individuals who are recently licensed (10 years or less) or moving along path to licensure.

8. Small Firm Exchange

Report attached

9. Discussion

Equity, Diversity, and Inclusion. Helen: went to a session on this at Grassroots. There is a guide available, Chapters 1-3 are published, 4-5 out in June. Search Google "guides for inclusion AIA."

It would be interesting to have a seminar to teach you if you are making progress in this area. As soon as you start watching it you try to improve your ratings. JUST Label. By Living Futures out of Seattle. If you do a Living Building challenge you have to have this. Creates self-examination, as does the friendly firm program.

Good to have champions in office for diversity and inclusion.

Women in Architecture committee in CT, supporting Diversity Intercultural Competence.

Series of conversations....Seattle had six discussion points they used as a model from one of the Chapters of above book.

Jeannette: how to you find moderators.

BSA EP group is streaming their events through Facebook. Just have to invest in the camera and the sound.

BSA put together a group to make recommendations. Everything from how we operate, to recommendations for firms. Been following what the national publication has. Thought the aspect of pay equity and leadership was the paramount topic. But as they looked at data, it's a very complicated challenge, more cultural than a policy or practice challenge. Generally there is pay equity, but work place culture is more important (progression is based on hours, availability. How is that impacting families, etc.?). What policies could encourage people to think about progression in firms differently. This is the challenge to tackle. If there is paid family leave, more men would take it, would help level things. Tom mentioned that in order to keep good employees you need to address these matters.

Next meeting: Could we have some people from BSA at next meeting and continue this topic?

10. Are there people who we want to nominate for the AIA Board? Emily is done next year; need to think of someone. Candidates have to declare before Grassroots. Encourage people to declare by Dec or January at the latest.

11. Alan motioned to adjourn. Katelyn seconded Meeting adjourned at 2:42 pm.

New England RAD Report

Gail Kubik, Assoc. AIA
Regional Associate Director (2019-2020)

National Update

- NAC Knowledge Work Group
  - o Goal for the year is to investigate the resources firm leaders use to provide professional guidance and how those resources are being distributed to assist EP's in becoming future leaders.
  - o Conducted an assessment of the resources currently available on AIA's Center for Emerging Professionals website.
    - Currently analyzing these resources based upon topical relevance and the soft skills they attempt to impart on the reader. "Soft skills" examples include communication, creative thinking, work ethic, decision making, time management, motivation, problem-solving, critical thinking and conflict resolution just to name a few.
  - o Looking to analyze the AIA Kinetic app, a past resource created to digitally share career guidance and best business practices through short articles published by members.
    - Connecting with the Small Firm Round Table (SFRT).
  - o Looking to better understand the challenges regional EPNet groups are facing for professional development outside the office environment.
    - Currently creating a survey to evaluate their experiences with EP member engagement and the use of digital resources.
- Archiprep
  - o The AIA has created a new ARE study platform to support EP's in the licensing process. The program will offer each person the ability to create their customized study plan and will offer the ability to report tracked progress (ie. average time you spend on answering a question). The official launch with Components was at Grassroots in March and it's expected to roll out nationally around the time of the AIA Convention in June (6th-8th).
- NDSA Bill
  - o The NAC's Advocacy Task Force is supporting the National Design Services Act currently in Congress. This bill introduces student loan forgiveness for architecture students and recent grads by creating a program to allow EP's to work with HUD community design centers in exchange for assistance paying off student loans. For each year of service, HUD will repay a certain percentage of the loan until it is paid off.

Regional Update

- EP Leader Spotlights on AIA New England's Instagram account (@aianewengland)
- Professional Development Webinar Series
  - o Collaborating with Andrew Kollar, AIA, Co-Chair of the BSA's Codes Committee, to create a webinar series that promotes professional development skills EP's might not be getting exposed to on projects.
    - Currently planning first webinar which will focus on how to perform a code analysis on an example project. Webinar expected to occur in July.
  - o Future webinars in the series will focus on how to perform a zoning analysis and a resilience study on a site.
  - o Goal is to record the webinars and to share them as a resource available for all EPN groups in AIA New England.
